Methodology & Sources

- The report contains three sections:
  - The Market Landscape section is sourced from Visit California's key research partners, including Tourism Economics, NTTO, CIC Research, Cirium and YouGov.
  - The Audience Insights section is sourced from YouGov's Global Travel Profiles database which tracks travel-related sentiment and behavior in over 25 global markets, including all thirteen Visit California opportunity markets. Panelists are surveyed on preferred trip types, booking methods, accommodation preferences, and advertising perceptions.
    - The audience profile is built on a segmentation of consumers planning international leisure travel in the next 12 months and are considering California as a destination.* The profiles provide insights into those travelers most likely to visit the state.
  - The California Traveler and Trip Insights section provides information on trips that included a stay in California from the Survey of International Air Travelers (SIAT).

*Two years of response data are used for profiling. Profile targets for China and Japan include travelers considering California or other U.S. destinations due to sample size limitations.
