KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

SUMMARY

After rebounding in 2024, hotel investment across Orange County cooled again in 2025 as higher borrowing costs and persistent valuation gaps weighed on deal flow. Over the past year, 13 hotels traded for a combined $123 million, below the three-year average of $413 million but broadly in line with national transaction trends.

Recent activity skewed toward smaller midscale, upper-midscale, and independent properties, with most transactions completed by private buyers rather than institutional capital. Pricing and deal velocity reflected a bifurcated environment, where well-located coastal and resort assets continued to command premium valuations, while suburban and extended-stay properties traded at more moderate levels.

The most significant transaction closed in December 2024 and accounted for more than two-thirds of total annual volume. T2 Hospitality sold a two-hotel Anaheim portfolio to DCC Hospitality REIT Inc. for $303.2 million.

The sale included the 294-room Residence Inn Anaheim Resort/Convention Center at roughly $610,000 per key and the adjacent 174-room SpringHill Suites Anaheim Resort at approximately $712,000 per key. The deal established the region's highest per-key pricing benchmark in nearly a decade and reinforced investor demand for large, branded assets tied to Disneyland and convention-driven demand.

Another notable coastal transaction occurred in mid-2024, when the 120-room Pacific Edge Hotel in Laguna Beach sold for $80 million, or about $667,000 per key. The buyer, Dune Drifter, plans a significant repositioning, including an expansion to 145 rooms along with enhanced food-and-beverage and meeting space offerings. The transaction represented a meaningful increase from its prior sale and highlighted continued investor confidence in irreplaceable oceanfront locations.

More recent 2025 activity points to improving liquidity at the smaller end of the market. Several Sonesta-branded extended-stay and select-service properties traded as part of portfolio transactions involving Service Properties Trust, generally at pricing below $130,000 per key. These deals reflect growing interest from buyers focused on yield and operational stability rather than near-term appreciation.

Resort-oriented submarkets such as Newport Beach, Dana Point, and Laguna Beach continued to capture a disproportionate share of total dollar volume, supported by limited supply and strong leisure fundamentals. In contrast, Anaheim remained relatively quiet outside of the marquee portfolio sale, reflecting its concentration of larger, higher-priced assets and wider bid-ask spreads.

Looking ahead, transaction momentum is expected to remain measured through 2026 with sales driven by refinancing risks amidst elevated borrowing costs, and ongoing brand-mandated capital programs. While many investors remain cautious, Orange County's durable leisure appeal, coastal scarcity, and proximity to global attractions continue to attract patient capital focused on long-term value creation rather than short-term trading.
